173pp , About the Author :: Anatoli Karpov Yevgénévich , Zlatoust , Russia , then part of the Soviet Union , May 23, 1951 ) is an international grandmaster chess world champion in the period (1975-1985 ) and between 1993 and 1999. Currently , he plays for Russia ... Ranked 152.º the world in the list of FIDE ( September 2009) , with an elo of 2619 , and 35th of Russia ... His best elo is 2780 , achieved in July 1994 ... Karpov won the championship of the USSR chess on three occasions, in 1976 and 1983 and in 1988 alone , sharing first place with Garry Kasparov ... his career was successful early on. He became the youngest national master of the Soviet Union in 1966 at 15 years of age and in 1969 won the World Junior Championship ... Named Master of Sports of the USSR in 1966 , International Master in 1969 and the following year , gained international grandmaster norm ... The following years saw a rapid consolidation and in 1973 won second place in the Soviet Championship and first in the interzonal tournament in Leningrad , which gave him the right to participate in the games candidates. After winning in the quarterfinals to Lev Polugaevsky , had to face former world champion Boris Spassky , whom he defeated convincingly against all odds , 4-1 ( the tables did not count ) . In the final, he defeated Viktor Korchnoi by the narrowest of 12.5 to 11.5 ... This gave him the right to face Bobby Fischer for the world crown ; but the resignation of the US to defend his title in 1975 became the 12th world champion without playing a game. This led him to prove that he was indeed the world's strongest player and not a paper champion , a goal that met every success defending his title in 1978 ( Baguio ) and 1981 ( Merano ) against Viktor Korchnoi with 6 results -5 , 6-2 respectively ( tables lacked ) . He also won countless tournaments and was the undisputed leader until the appearance of Garry Kasparov , who would face for more than a decade in a strong and exciting rivalry |
